Election 2008

The election is only weeks away. Be sure to take a look at these websites for up to the minute reporting on all election aspects.

CNNPolitics.com

<http://www.cnn.com/POLITICS/>

CNN is among the world's leaders in online news and information delivery. Staffed 24 hours, seven days a week by a dedicated staff in CNN's world headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia, and in bureaus worldwide, CNN.com relies heavily on CNN's global team of almost 4,000 news professionals. CNN.com features the latest multimedia technologies, from live video streaming to audio packages to searchable archives of news features and background information. The site is updated continuously throughout the day.

League of Women Voters

<http://www.lww.org/Election2008/index.html>

The League of Women Voters, a nonpartisan political organization, has fought since 1920 to improve our systems of government and impact public policies through citizen education and advocacy. Especially helpful at this site is the link to Vote411 that helps you find information on voting in your state and locating your polling place.

Project Vote Smart

http://votesmart.org/program_about_pvs.php

The exhaustive information on this website is assembled by volunteers that are of varying political beliefs. The one thing they have in common is that voting should be done by informed citizens. You can find out a politician's biographical profile, voting record and much more.
