

The New York State Library is pleased to announce that an additional $20 million has been added to the 2019/2020 State Aid for Library Construction program. That brings the total for the program year to $34 million.

For information about the FY2019/2020 $34 million State Aid for Library Construction application process, libraries should contact their public library system. Information is also available online at <http://www.nysl.nysed.gov/libdev/construc/instructions.htm>

All applications for aid will be due from the library systems to the State Library on Thursday, October 31, 2019.
